

Guided Study Begins 9/11!

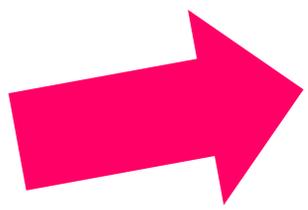

Let's review how Guided Study works so you can be on the winning end of this process!

*lunch based on 4th period class

This time is for you to catch up on missing work, study, read, or work ahead. Sometimes a teacher will give makeup tests, or extra time during this 30 minute period. Everyone who is in class has missing work- and therefore something to do. It is NOT free time.

OR:

On Mondays, you may receive an Extended Guided Study slip. If so, this means one or more of your teachers is concerned about your grade in their class due to a lot of missing work. They have referred you so you have extended time to get caught up. You will have a full hour to work as you eat lunch in a specific location. The slip will have the number of the room to report to and assignments to work in.

- 10:30- go to the cafeteria to pick up Lunch.
- Carry lunch to the room on your slip.
- Eat while working on missing assignments until 11:43.

Note: If you receive a slip, you have Monday and Tuesday to finish the work listed, get it turned in, and have your teachers sign the slip. You have until Tuesday at 2:30 pm to submit the signed slip to Mrs Campbell's office (downstairs near the elevator)- there will be a box on the counter for completed slips. If you do this, you do not have the hour Guided study and can have lunch normally.

BUT...

If you have no missing work marked NTI in skyward, you will be given a Double Lunch Ticket. Which will allow you to go to both A and B lunch on Wednesday.

- At 10:35, you will be dismissed to A lunch.
- Report to 6th period at 11:43.

The best way to ensure double lunch, is it to make sure all your work is turned in on time. Why? Because once an NTI is entered by your teachers, you will have to wait until they are able to grade the late work and remove the code, which may take time. Do not expect it to happen the day you return the Guided Study slip at 7:30 am.

Be on the winning end and gain extra time with your friends at lunch!
